-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

The evidence submitted is insufficient to establish a reduction to practice of the invention in this country or a NAFTA or WTO member country prior to the effective date of the Ross reference. In this instant application, the Applicant(s) has not presented any concrete evidence for establishing "conception plus reasonable diligence to reduction to practice" as required according to MPEP 2138.04-05. Therefore, the Applicant's Amendment/Reply filed on 09/30/2005 will not be entered and this Action is made Final.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

1. Claims 1-2 and 5-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ross et al. (2002/0132616).

Regarding claims 1 and 6, Ross discloses a local wireless communication network 10 for digital audio players (See fig. 1), the network 10 comprising: one or more content hosts 12, 18, 20; a plurality of digital audio players 14, 22, each having a wireless communication platform for establishing a communication link between at least one of the content hosts 12, 18, 20 and at least one of other digital audio player 14, 22, each digital audio player including a player storage device for storing digital content and the communication platform configured to automatically synchronize digital content between the digital audio players in range of one another (See fig. 1 and page 2 [0017-0021]).

Regarding claim 2, Ross discloses as cited in claim 1. Ross further discloses the host 12, 18 is configured as a gateway (See fig. 1).

Regarding claim 5, Ross discloses as cited in claim 1. Ross further discloses the host 20 is configured as a stand-alone gateway (See fig. 1).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 3-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ross et al. (2002/0132616).

Regarding claims 3-4, Ross discloses as cited in claim 1. However, Ross does not explicitly mention that the host is a set top box or a personal computer platform (PC). Since Ross does suggest the host is also a local emitter and the set top box or PC is known in the art as a local emitter; therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to utilize the set top box or the PC as the host for the advantage of expanding the capability of the system into various types of electronic devices.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
